

How has Manchester changed over time?

In the heritage, communities and citizenship theme we will be learning about how Manchester has changed over time.

We will be learning about the history of Manchester, comparing modern day Manchester to the past, stating what is similar and what is different. We will be learning about the monarchy in the past and learning how to place events in chronological order.

We will then be writing a non-chronological report all about how Manchester has changed.

To know how children's lives have changed in Manchester

To know how schools in Manchester have changed.

To know how jobs in Manchester have changed.

To know how transport in Manchester has changed.

To know about the monarchy in the past and place events in chronological order..

To know about Manchester's mills and who worked there.

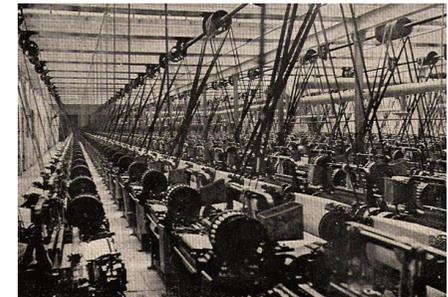

To know who LS Lowry is and compare his artwork to modern day Manchester

This is a picture of Manchester city centre in the past. We will be focusing on the living conditions, different modes of transport and jobs. We will then look into different events over time and place them in chronological order.

We will be learning about how transport has changed in Manchester. This is a picture of a horse and carriage on Gorton Lane in Manchester.

This is a working cotton mill in Manchester. This is Quarry Bank Mill which was a cotton Mill. We will learn about the role of children working in the cotton mills and find out about where they slept, what they ate and how old they were when they went to work.

As a historian I will know...
